Request for Application 1023 to be expedited

On behalf of the Board of Directors of SHAKA Movement, I would like to request that our 1023 application, filed on this date as a 501-C3 tax-exempt organization be expedited. We are requesting this expedite for the following reasons.

A potential funder who is anticipating contributing two payments to the SHAKA organization in the next quarter has contacted us. We recently were contacted by the Tide Foundation to receive $5000 from one of their foundation clients and they were unable to grant this due to not having our determination letter and application approved.

Our tax exempt EIN number was issued to SHAKA online on February 18, 2014 and is: EIN 46-4888079.

Please contact us for any further information regarding our request.

Part IV - Narrative

SHAKA Movement (hereinafter SHAKA), a grassroots organization headquartered in Maui, Hawaii, was formed for exclusively charitable and educational purposes. Specifically, SHAKA Movement educates the general public about sustainable solutions to protect and improve the public natural resources held in trust by the state of Hawaii.

Presently SHAKA educates the public on environmental responsibility and scientifically-based sustainable alternatives related to agriculture, health, environmental and biotech science, soil remediation and other related fields. Solutions are offered through educational communications, peaceful actions, public gatherings, and through advocacy forums, outreach programs, grassroots efforts and a variety of other means.

In the past SHAKA has sponsored educational public events and forums in Maui County including seven public events hosting a variety of experts in agriculture, health, advocacy, environmental and biotech science, and soil remediation. SHAKA has mobilized hundreds of volunteers to organize, sponsor, and promote many experts in the field of sustainable agriculture.

Those participating in these free public educational events include all seven geographic areas of Maui County. The attendance at each forum ranged from 150-500 people. All events were publicized free to the public to date all efforts combined have reached directly over 15,000 citizens.

In late 2013, SHAKA hosted a free public event in Haiku, Maui that was attended by keynote speakers who are internationally known in the field of sustainable solutions. These experts provided SHAKA training in grassroots organization and mobilization based on a successful resource-hub model produced in a documentary film viewed by over 22 million people internationally. Over 150 people attended this event. In December 2013 and January 2014, over 200 people attended community education events presented by experts in the field of agriculture including:

Retired World Health Organization physician Lorrin Pang, MD. Dr. Pang is currently a Maui District Health Officer and is a medical expert and consultant to Congress.

Hector Velesquez, Ph.D. Dr. Velesquez is a Professor at the University of Hawaii in Manoa, College of Tropical Agriculture. He is a leading soil expert and crop specialist.

Don Huber, Ph.D., Dr. Huber is a retired colonel, Professor Emeritus, Purdue University, biological weapons expert, and an expert on biotechnology and toxic agricultural chemicals

Bob Streit. Mr. Streit is an agronomist and world-renowned soil remediation expert.

Walter Ritte. Mr. Ritte is a Hawaiian activist and resident of Moloakai where the biotech industry is very active in agricultural practices and farming.

More recently, on February 24, 2014, 500 people attended the launch of the citizen's panel for educating the community about a moratorium ballot initiative. The citizen panel consisted of an environmental activist with a PhD in education and sustainable land management, a retired World Health Organization consultant, M.D. and district health officer, a naturopathic doctor, a Hawaiian Kapaunua/retired public school educator and a Hawaiian Alli'i, farmer and former youth director. At each event speakers presented their topic of expertise and shared scientific data while fielding a variety of questions, answers and concerns.

On March 30, 2014 approximately 2500 concerned Maui citizens participated in a large march and educational rally to unite around citizen concerns as whether the GE operations, chemical pesticide and herbicide use on crops, and outdoor laboratory practices, are causing irreparable harm to the people, environment and Public Trust Resources. All efforts of the SHAKA organization are based on the Article XI in The Hawaii State constitution that grants protection of the Public Trust Resources.

Specific educational events listed in order of date held are as follows: included are: November 2013, Thrive Movement educational symposium via Skype to 165 diverse Maui citizens who mobilized into resource hubs. December 17, 2013, Haiku, Maui speaker presentation Dr. Lorrin Pang, M.D., Walter Ritte Hawaiian activist and farmer, January 2014, Hector Velasquez, PhD, University of Hawaii Tropical Agriculture professor, February 24, 2014, Citizen Panel and guest speakers, Dr. Don Huber and Bob Streit.

All have been free and open to the public.

In-house educational events have included informational instruction to the public about the adverse effects of biotech and pesticide practices in Maui County and its harm to citizens and natural resources, including air, water and soil. Local and state media coverage and community concerns in printed form are attached, (see attachment), the SHAKA media hub produced 10,000 educational color brochures, a social media package consisting of a user friendly and free-access website, (shakamovement.org). Video posts of educational topics and expert speakers were posted to SHAKA's video channel. A database for direct e-mail communications was established and utilized to empower volunteers and community action. In February of 2014, a comprehensive advocacy campaign was organized by a contract positions to provide technical support to the citizen's initiative panel, to train volunteers, to encourage people to register to vote, and social events were hosted at local beach parks to celebrate benchmarks and participate in NVC (Non Violent Communication Training). Private funds were donated through three private donors, web site donations, and local fundraising events to provide funding for community educational events, including underwriting of event venue costs, one contract position, printing and business supplies for each training. These activities constitute full time activities and hundreds of volunteer hours have been donated towards this effort. Attached are copies of SHAKA's activity calendar of educational and advocacy events for May through December of 2014, all of which correlate to the budget items.

SHAKA maintains a large community presence through its website: <http://www.shakamovement.org> which provides downloadable scientific material and talking points for public information related to sustainable alternatives in the fields of agriculture, health, environmental and biotech science, soil remediation and other related fields. There is no advertising on the website.

SHAKA volunteers have been provided use of community offices or private business spaces graciously donated for educational gatherings and meeting spaces. The address of SHAKA's Board of Directors is 1135 Makawao Ave., Suite 103, PMB 299, Makawao, Hawaii, 96708-7402 and the mailing address is P.O. Box 790538, Paia, Hawaii, 96779.

In the next several months SHAKA will be seeking a storefront presence for volunteers, educational meetings and a resource hub.

Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code provides tax exemption for organizations organized and operated exclusively for charitable and/or educational purposes.

Section 1.501(c)(3)-1(d)(2) of the Income Tax Regulations states that the term "charitable" is used in section 501(c)(3) of the Code in its generally accepted legal sense and includes the advancement of education.

Section 1.501(c)(3)-1(d)(3)(i)(a) of the regulations states that the term educational, as used in IRC 501(c)(3), relates to the instruction or training of the individual for the purpose of improving or developing his capabilities or the instruction of the public on subjects useful to the individual and beneficial to the community.

Example 2 in Section 1.501(c)(3)-1(d)(3)(ii) of the regulations, makes it clear that "An organization whose activities consist of presenting public discussion groups, forums, panels, lectures, or other similar programs," is educational.

By offering educational events regular volunteer trainings for community educators, panel speakers and health experts, multi-media presentations, an email list, website, DVD and print library, SHAKA is educating the public on subjects useful to individuals and beneficial to the community.

According to Section 1.501(c)(3)-1(d)(2) of the regulations, even a controversial organization can qualify under section 501(c)(3):

...The fact that an organization, in carrying out its primary purpose, advocates social or civic changes or presents opinion on controversial issues with the intention of molding public opinion or creating public sentiment to an acceptance of its views does not preclude such organization from qualifying under section 501(c)(3)...

In Revenue Procedure 86-43, 1986-2 C.B. 729, the IRS recognized that advocacy of unpopular or less accepted viewpoints may be educational, and reaffirmed that it is "the policy of the Service to maintain a position of disinterested neutrality with respect to the beliefs advocated by an organization."

Revenue Procedure 86-43 went on to describe several advocacy techniques that may indicate that an organization is not educational...

The presentation of viewpoints unsupported by facts.
 The presentation of viewpoints supported by distorted facts.
 Substantial use of inflammatory and disparaging terms.
 Conclusions based on strong emotional feelings rather than objective evaluations.
 Presentations not aimed at developing an understanding on the part of the intended audience. Presentations that do not consider the background or training of the audience.

SHAKA does not use questionable techniques in its educational presentations.
 SHAKA Movement's purpose is to bring forth informed scientific facts about living in a balanced relationship with the Hawaii environment through peaceful communications and actions so as to protect, preserve and improve the Public Trust Resources of Hawaii for current and future generations. All activities of the SM organization are conducted to support this purpose according to this section:

Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code provides tax exemption for organizations organized and operated exclusively for charitable and/or educational purposes.

The purpose of this calendar is to provide an overview of SHAKA Movement's activities over the next eight calendar months in quarterly calendar activities with past, present and future descriptions. Earlier history of activities is described in the above narrative. Current and future activities are included in this attachment providing activities after the incorporation date of March 18, 2014, ending with December of 2014.

Part X Public Charity Status

Part X is designed to classify you as an organization that is either a private foundation or a public charity. Public charity status is a more favorable tax status than private foundation status. If you are a private foundation, Part X is designed to further determine whether you are a private operating foundation. (See instructions.)

- 1a Are you a private foundation? If "Yes," go to line 1b. If "No," go to line 5 and proceed as instructed. If you are unsure, see the instructions. Yes No
- b As a private foundation, section 508(e) requires special provisions in your organizing document in addition to those that apply to all organizations described in section 501(c)(3). Check the box to confirm that your organizing document meets this requirement, whether by express provision or by reliance on operation of state law. Attach a statement that describes specifically where your organizing document meets this requirement, such as a reference to a particular article or section in your organizing document or by operation of state law. See the instructions, including Appendix B, for information about the special provisions that need to be contained in your organizing document. Go to line 2.
- 2 Are you a private operating foundation? To be a private operating foundation you must engage directly in the active conduct of charitable, religious, educational, and similar activities, as opposed to indirectly carrying out these activities by providing grants to individuals or other organizations. If "Yes," go to line 3. If "No," go to the signature section of Part XI. Yes No
- 3 Have you existed for one or more years? If "Yes," attach financial information showing that you are a private operating foundation; go to the signature section of Part XI. If "No," continue to line 4. Yes No
- 4 Have you attached either (1) an affidavit or opinion of counsel, (including a written affidavit or opinion from a certified public accountant or accounting firm with expertise regarding this tax law matter), that sets forth facts concerning your operations and support to demonstrate that you are likely to satisfy the requirements to be classified as a private operating foundation; or (2) a statement describing your proposed operations as a private operating foundation? Yes No
- 5 If you answered "No" to line 1a, indicate the type of public charity status you are requesting by checking one of the choices below. You may check only one box.
- The organization is not a private foundation because it is:
- a 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(i)—a church or a convention or association of churches. Complete and attach Schedule A.
 - b 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(ii)—a school. Complete and attach Schedule B.
 - c 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(iii)—a hospital, a cooperative hospital service organization, or a medical research organization operated in conjunction with a hospital. Complete and attach Schedule C.
 - d 509(a)(3)—an organization supporting either one or more organizations described in line 5a through c, f, g, or h or a publicly supported section 501(c)(4), (5), or (6) organization. Complete and attach Schedule D.

Section 5a

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

Adopted on: 3/17/14

Article IPurpose

The purpose of the conflict of interest policy is to protect SHAKA MOVEMENT (the "Organization") interest when it is contemplating entering into a transaction or arrangement that might benefit the private interest of an officer or director of the Organization (or other person listed below) or might result in a possible excess benefit transaction. This conflict of interest policy is intended to supplement but not replace any applicable state and federal laws governing conflict of interest applicable to nonprofit and charitable organizations.

Article IIDefinitions1. Interested Person

Any director, officer, manager, key employee^{1/} or member of a committee with governing board delegated powers, who has a direct or indirect financial interest, as defined below, is an interested person.

2. Financial Interest

A person has a financial interest if the person has, directly or indirectly, through business, investment, or family:

- a. An ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Organization has a transaction or arrangement,
- b. A compensation arrangement with the Organization or with any entity or individual with which the Organization has a transaction or arrangement, or
- c. A potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Organization is negotiating a transaction or arrangement.

^{1/} A "key employee" is an employee of the Organization who meets the three following tests: (a) $150,000 Test: receives reportable compensation from the Organization and all related organizations in excess of $150,000 for the year; (b) Responsibility Test: the employee: (i) has responsibility, powers, or influence over the Organization as a whole that is similar to those of officers, directors, or trustees; (ii) manages a discrete segment or activity of the Organization that represents 10% or more of the activities, assets, income, or expenses of the Organization, as compared to the Organization as a whole; or (iii) has or shares authority to control or determine 10% or more of the Organization's capital expenditures, operating budget, or compensation for employees; and (c) Top 20 Test: is one of the 20 employees (that satisfy the $150,000 Test and Responsibility Test) with the highest reportable compensation from the Organization and related organizations for the year.

Compensation includes direct and indirect remuneration as well as gifts or favors that are not insubstantial.

A financial interest is not necessarily a conflict of interest. Under Article III, Section 2, a person who has a financial interest may have a conflict of interest only if the appropriate governing board or committee decides that a conflict of interest exists.

Article III Procedures

1. Duty to Disclose

In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of the financial interest and be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the directors and members of committees with governing board delegated powers considering the proposed transaction or arrangement.

2. Determining Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists

After disclosure of the financial interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, he/she shall leave the governing board or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining board or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

3. Procedures for Addressing the Conflict of Interest

a. An interested person may make a presentation at the governing board or committee meeting, but after the presentation, he/she shall leave the meeting during the discussion of, and the vote on, the transaction or arrangement involving the possible conflict of interest.

b. If the governing board or committee determines that there is no conflict of interest, the transaction or arrangement is not subject to the remaining procedures c. through e. outlined in this Section 3. If the governing board or committee determines that there is a conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall follow the procedures outlined in paragraphs c. through e. of this Section 3.

c. The chairperson of the governing board or committee shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement.

d. After exercising due diligence, the governing board or committee shall determine whether the Organization can obtain with reasonable efforts a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest.

e. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably possible under circumstances not producing a conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Organization's best interest, for its own benefit, and whether it is fair and reasonable. In conformity with the above determination it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.

4. Violations of the Conflict of Interest Policy

- a. If the governing board or committee has reasonable cause to believe a member has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, it shall inform the member of the basis for such belief and afford the member an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose.
- b. If, after hearing the member's response and after making further investigation as warranted by the circumstances, the governing board or committee determines the member has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

Article IV Records of Proceedings

The minutes of the governing board and all committees with board delegated powers shall contain:

- a. The names of the persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the governing board's or committee's decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed.
- b. The names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection with the proceedings.

Article V Compensation

- a. A voting member of the governing board who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Organization for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.
- b. A voting member of any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Organization for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.
- c. No voting member of the governing board or any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Organization, either individually or collectively, is prohibited from providing information to any committee regarding compensation.

Article VI Annual Statements

Each interested person shall annually sign a statement which affirms such person:

- a. Has received a copy of the conflict of interest policy,
- b. Has read and understands the conflict of interest policy,

- c. Has agreed to comply with the conflict of interest policy, and
- d. Understands the Organization is charitable and in order to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities which accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes.

In addition, on such statement, each interested persons shall disclose or update his or her interests that could give rise to a conflict of interest, such as a list of family members, substantial business or investment holdings, and other transactions or affiliations with businesses and other organizations and those of family members.

- a. Whether compensation arrangements and benefits are reasonable, based on competent survey information, and the result of arm's-length bargaining.
- b. - c. Whether the governing board and all committees with board delegated powers are properly implementing this conflict of interest policy.
- d. Whether any improvements should be made to this conflict of interest policy.

Article VIII Use of Outside Experts

Case Notes

Where church was not a hierarchical church, but a congregational church that made decisions by a vote of its members as set forth in its "petition for charter" of incorporation and by-laws, the church was governed by this chapter; thus, appellants should have been allowed to amend their complaint, had standing to contest their expulsion, and were not precluded from doing so by the ecclesiastical abstention doctrine; also, doctrine did not bar appellants' complaint to the extent it did not require resolution of controversies over church doctrine, law, or polity. 118 H. 165 (App.), 185 P.3d 913.

Case Notes

Where church was not a hierarchical church, but a congregational church that made decisions by a vote of its members as set forth in its "petition for charter" of incorporation and by-laws, the church was governed by this chapter; thus, appellants should have been allowed to amend their complaint, had standing to contest their expulsion, and were not precluded from doing so by the ecclesiastical abstention doctrine; also, doctrine did not bar appellants' complaint to the extent it did not require resolution of controversies over church doctrine, law, or polity. 118 H. 165 (App.), 185 P.3d 913.

Dangers to the Environment

From the beginning, many scientists have had concerns that the release of these new organisms with their engineered DNA could have dire consequences. Those consequences not only affect the natural "wild" environment, but also conventional and organic agriculture.

Companies are also working with the genetic manipulation of trees to produce commercial benefits such as more rapid growth. There are experiments with "pharma-crops," trying to get plants to "grow" medicines or ingredients for medicines.

Crosspollination

Pollen from GM crops and trees can contaminate nearby crops and wild plants of the same type, except for soy, which does not cross-pollinate. In fact, virtually all heritage varieties of corn in Mexico (the origin of all corn) have been found to have some contamination. Canola and cotton also cross-pollinate.

GM sugar beets are a member of the chard family and therefore have even more potential targets for contamination through crosspollination. No one knows what might happen if DNA containing pharmaceutical properties are spread to wild plants.

Toxicity

Studies have shown that pesticide-producing crops contaminate nearby streams, possibly affecting aquatic life. The bt toxin produced by these GM crops are far stronger than any found in nature, and are produced throughout the plant.

They may harm beneficial insects. And, it has been found that previously insignificant insects which are not targeted by the GM varieties develop into pests. Then pesticide spraying resumes, on top of the potential build-up of the extra strong bt toxin in the soil. This has occurred in China, India as well as in the US.

"Super Weeds"

As weeds adapt to herbicides, they develop resistance and evolve into what are called "super weeds." When that happens, herbicide use increases and the benefits of herbicide resistant crops are diminished, if not lost.

Impact on Sustainable Agriculture

Organic standards do not allow the use of GM seeds and therefore steps are taken to try to prevent contamination. Tests are not required, although some vigilant organic companies require them. According to the organic standards, contamination by cross-pollination is not disallowed, but some companies reject contaminated product above some small amount such as 0.1%.

Organic canola farmers in Canada sued biotech companies, since cross-pollination has made it impossible for them to grow organic, non-GM canola.

GM-free agricultural zones

Using identity preservation (IP), farmers keep crop varieties separate from others to meet purity requirements of their buyers.

Contamination is a key challenge to IP growers. Unwanted varieties may cross-pollinate or get mixed up in the seed, harvest equipment, or during storage and transport.

Some farm regions create entire zones that exclude unwanted varieties, where all the farms, and if possible all collection and distribution points, only handle approved grain.

Voters in Mendocino and Marin Counties in California passed ballot initiative to ban GM crops. Officials in Trinity County and Arcata, California have passed ordinances banning the outdoor cultivation of GM crops as well. But since then, a California law was passed prohibiting this type of local initiatives.

In March 2008, voters at the Montville, Maine, annual town meeting overwhelmingly passed a binding ordinance banning the cultivation of GM crops in their community.

10 Reasons to Avoid GMOs

1. GMOs are unhealthy.

The American Academy of Environmental Medicine (AAEM) urges doctors to prescribe non-GMO diets for all patients. They cite animal studies showing organ damage, gastrointestinal and immune system disorders, accelerated aging, and infertility. Human studies show how genetically modified (GM) food can leave material behind inside us, possibly causing long-term problems. Genes inserted into GM soy, for example, can transfer into the DNA of bacteria living inside us, and that the toxic insecticide produced by GM corn was found in the blood of pregnant women and their unborn fetuses.

Numerous health problems increased after GMOs were introduced in 1996. The percentage of Americans with three or more chronic illnesses jumped from 7% to 13% in just 9 years; food allergies skyrocketed, and disorders such as autism, reproductive disorders, digestive problems, and others are on the rise. Although there is not sufficient research to confirm that GMOs are a contributing factor, doctors groups such as the AAEM tell us not to wait before we start protecting ourselves, and especially our children who are most at risk.

The American Public Health Association and American Nurses Association are among many medical groups that condemn the use of GM bovine growth hormone, because the milk from treated cows has more of the hormone IGF-1 (insulin-like growth factor 1)—which is linked to cancer.

2. GMOs contaminate—forever.

GMOs cross pollinate and their seeds can travel. It is impossible to fully clean up our contaminated gene pool. Self-propagating GMO pollution will outlast the effects of global warming and nuclear waste. The potential impact is huge. Threatening the health of future

3. GMOs increase herbicide use.

Most GM crops are engineered to be "herbicide tolerant"—they deadly weed killer. Monsanto, for example, sells Roundup Ready crops, designed to survive applications of their Roundup herbicide.

Between 1996 and 2008, US farmers sprayed an extra 383 million pounds of herbicide on GMOs. Overuse of Roundup results in "superweeds," resistant to the herbicide. This is causing farmers to use even more toxic herbicides every year. Not only does this create environmental harm, GM foods contain higher residues of toxic herbicides. Roundup, for example, is linked with sterility, hormone disruption, birth defects, and cancer.

4. Genetic engineering creates dangerous side effects.

By mixing genes from totally unrelated species, genetic engineering unleashes a host of unpredictable side effects. Moreover, irrespective of the type of genes that are inserted, the very process of creating a GM plant can result in massive collateral damage that produces new toxins, allergens, carcinogens, and nutritional deficiencies.

5. Government oversight is dangerously lax.

Most of the health and environmental risks of GMOs are ignored by governments' superficial regulations and safety assessments. The reason for this tragedy is largely political. The US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), for example, doesn't require a single safety study, does not mandate labeling of GMOs, and allows companies to put their GM foods onto the market without even notifying the agency. Their justification was the claim that they had no information showing that GM foods were substantially different. But this was a lie. Secret agency memos made public by a lawsuit show that the overwhelming consensus even among the FDA's own scientists was that GMOs can create unpredictable, hard-to-detect side effects. They urged long-term safety studies. But the White House had instructed the FDA to promote biotechnology, and the agency official in charge of policy was Michael Taylor, Monsanto's former attorney, later their vice president. He's now the US Food Safety Czar.

6. The biotech industry uses “tobacco science” to claim product safety.

Biotech companies like Monsanto told us that Agent Orange, PCBs, and DDT were safe. They are now using the same type of superficial, rigged research to try and convince us that GMOs are safe. Independent scientists, however, have caught the spin-masters red-handed, demonstrating without doubt how industry-funded research is designed to avoid finding problems, and how adverse findings are distorted or denied.

7. Independent research and reporting is attacked and suppressed.

Scientists who discover problems with GMOs have been attacked, gagged, fired, threatened, and denied funding. The journal Nature acknowledged that a “large block of scientists . . . denigrate research by other legitimate scientists in a knee-jerk, partisan, emotional way that is not helpful in advancing knowledge.” Attempts by media to expose problems are also often censored.

8. GMOs harm the environment.

GM crops and their associated herbicides can harm birds, insects, amphibians, marine ecosystems, and soil organisms. They reduce biodiversity, pollute water resources, and are unsustainable. For example, GM crops are eliminating habitat for monarch butterflies, whose populations are down 50% in the US. Roundup herbicide has been shown to cause birth defects in amphibians, embryonic deaths and endocrine disruptions, and organ damage in animals even at very low doses. GM canola has been found growing wild in North Dakota and California, threatening to pass on its herbicide tolerant genes on to weeds.

9. GMOs do not increase yields, and work against feeding a hungry world.

Whereas sustainable non-GMO agricultural methods used in developing countries have conclusively resulted in yield increases of 79% and higher, GMOs do not, on average, increase yields at all. This was evident in the Union of Concerned Scientists’ 2009 report Failure to Yield—the definitive study to date on GM crops and yield.

The International Assessment of Agricultural Knowledge, Science and Technology for Development (IAASTD) report, authored by more than 400 scientists and backed by 58 governments, stated that GM crop yields were “highly variable” and in some cases, “yields declined.” The report noted, “Assessment of the technology lags behind its development, information is anecdotal and contradictory, and uncertainty about possible benefits and damage is unavoidable.” They determined that the current GMOs have nothing to offer the goals of reducing hunger and poverty, improving nutrition, health and rural livelihoods, and facilitating social and environmental sustainability. On the contrary, GMOs divert money and resources that would otherwise be spent on more safe, reliable, and appropriate technologies.

10. By avoiding GMOs, you contribute to the coming tipping point of consumer rejection, forcing them out of our food supply.

Because GMOs give no consumer benefits, if even a small percentage of us start rejecting brands that contain them, GM ingredients will become a marketing liability. Food companies will kick them out. In Europe, for example, the tipping point was achieved in 1999, just after a high profile GMO safety scandal hit the papers and alerted citizens to the potential dangers. In the US, a consumer rebellion against GM bovine growth hormone has also reached a tipping point, kicked the cow drug out of dairy products by Wal-Mart, Starbucks, Dannon, Yoplait, and most of America’s dairies.

The Campaign for Healthier Eating in America is designed to achieve a tipping point against GMOs in the US. The number of non-GMO shoppers needed is probably just 5% of the population. The key is to educate consumers about the documented health dangers and provide a Non-GMO Shopping Guide to make avoiding GMOs much easier.

Please choose healthier non-GMO brands, tell others about GMOs so they can do the same, and join the Non-GMO Tipping Point Network. Together we can quickly reclaim a non-GMO food supply.

The Hawai'i Constitution states that the Public Trust Resources (including but not limited to the land, water, and air) "...shall be conserved and protected for current and future generations."

The five citizens assert that the Genetically Engineered (GE) growing and testing occurring in Maui County (also known as GMO) is different than GE food production farming occurring elsewhere in the world, and therefore poses different circumstances, risks, and concerns.

In Maui County, the farming and testing of genetically engineered (GE) crops include the cultivation of GE seed crops, experimental GE test crops, and extensive pesticide use including the testing of experimental Pesticides in what is effectively an outdoor laboratory.

Areas of Maui's groundwater are already significantly contaminated with Pesticides, including DBCP and TCP, from former conventional pineapple growing operations. The propagation, cultivation, raising, or growing of GE Organisms in Maui County involve unprecedented use of Pesticides which may greatly exacerbate an already existing problem.

The five citizens state that the Hawai'i Dept. of Agriculture does not have an adequate regulatory structure in place to monitor GE crops or to aid in the understanding of the impacts of these crops on Maui's economy, environment, cultural heritage, or public health. Moreover, the land of Maui County and the water surrounding it have cultural and spiritual significance to the indigenous people of Hawaii. This cultural and spiritual heritage will suffer irreparable harm if the natural environment of Maui County is contaminated by the propagation, cultivation, raising, or growing of GE Organisms.

Another concern is that there are no known or proven scientific methodologies or procedures to recall GE Organisms or remediate/decontaminate the Environment from any damages once GE Organisms are released into the Environment and contamination has occurred.

Therefore, the citizens of Maui County call for a suspension of all GE operations within the County through a Temporary Moratorium Initiative until a detailed environmental impact analysis of the impacts stemming from the cultivation of GE crops and their associated Pesticide use is provided and reviewed by the people and County Council.

5. Government oversight is dangerously lax.

Most of the health and environmental risks of GMOs are ignored by governments' superficial regulations and safety assessments. The reason for this tragedy is largely political. The US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), for example, doesn't require a single safety study, does not mandate labeling of GMOs, and allows companies to put their GM foods onto the market without even notifying the agency. Their justification was the claim that they had no information showing that GM foods were substantially different. But this was a lie. Secret agency memos made public by a lawsuit show that the overwhelming consensus even among the FDA's own scientists was that GMOs can create unpredictable, hard-to-detect side effects. They urged long-term safety studies. But the White House had instructed the FDA to promote biotechnology, and the agency official in charge of policy was Michael Taylor, Monsanto's former attorney, later their vice president. He's now the US Food Safety Czar.

6. The biotech industry uses "tobacco science" to claim product safety.

Biotech companies like Monsanto told us that Agent Orange, PCBs, and DDT were safe. They are now using the same type of superficial, rigged research to try and convince us that GMOs are safe. Independent scientists, however, have caught the spin-masters red-handed, demonstrating without doubt how industry-funded research is designed to avoid finding problems, and how adverse findings are distorted or denied.

7. Independent research and reporting is attacked and suppressed.

Scientists who discover problems with GMOs have been attacked, gagged, fired, threatened, and denied funding. The journal Nature acknowledged that a "large block of scientists . . . denigrate research by other legitimate scientists in a knee-jerk, partisan, emotional way that is not helpful in advancing knowledge." Attempts by media to expose problems are also often censored.

8. GMOs harm the environment.

GM crops and their associated herbicides can harm birds, insects, amphibians, marine ecosystems, and soil organisms. They reduce biodiversity, pollute water resources, and are unsustainable. For example, GM crops are eliminating habitat for monarch butterflies, whose populations are down 50% in the US. Roundup herbicide has been shown to cause birth defects in amphibians, embryonic deaths and endocrine disruptions, and organ damage in animals even at very low doses. GM canola has been found growing wild in North Dakota and California, threatening to pass on its herbicide tolerant genes on to weeds.

9. GMOs do not increase yields, and work against feeding a hungry world.

Whereas sustainable non-GMO agricultural methods used in developing countries have conclusively resulted in yield increases of 79% and higher, GMOs do not, on average, increase yields at all. This was evident in the Union of Concerned Scientists' 2009 report Failure to Yield—the definitive study to date on GM crops and yield.

The International Assessment of Agricultural Knowledge, Science and Technology for Development (IAASTD) report, authored by more than 400 scientists and backed by 58 governments, stated that GM crop yields were "highly variable" and in some cases, "yields declined." The report noted, "Assessment of the technology lags behind its development, information is anecdotal and contradictory, and uncertainty about possible benefits and damage is unavoidable." They determined that the current GMOs have nothing to offer the goals of reducing hunger and poverty, improving nutrition, health and rural livelihoods, and facilitating social and environmental sustainability. On the contrary, GMOs divert money and resources that would otherwise be spent on more safe, reliable, and appropriate technologies.

10. By avoiding GMOs, you contribute to the coming tipping point of consumer rejection, forcing them out of our food supply. Because GMOs give no consumer benefits, if even a small percentage of us start rejecting brands that contain them, GM ingredients will become a marketing liability. Food companies will kick them out. In Europe, for example, the tipping point was achieved in 1999, just after a high profile GMO safety scandal hit the papers and alerted citizens to the potential dangers. In the US, a consumer rebellion against GM bovine growth hormone has also reached a tipping point, kicked the cow drug out of dairy products by Wal-Mart, Starbucks, Dannon, Yoplait, and most of America's dairies.

The Campaign for Healthier Eating in America is designed to achieve a tipping point against GMOs in the US. The number of non-GMO shoppers needed is probably just 5% of the population. The key is to educate consumers about the documented health dangers and provide a Non-GMO Shopping Guide to make avoiding GMOs much easier.

Please choose healthier non-GMO brands, tell others about GMOs so they can do the same, and join the Non-GMO Tipping Point Network. Together we can quickly reclaim a non-GMO food supply.

GMO Talking Points - Memorize and Teach everyone you know

Public Trust Doctrine and Public Trust Resources

Within the Hawaiian Constitution exists the "Public Trust Doctrine." In this "Doctrine" there is a section on the "Conservation and Development of Resources" Article XI, which clearly states that the "Public Trust Resources" (air, land, water, ocean, reefs, wildlife, microbes, biology, cultural heritage) must be protected for the benefit of present and future generations, and that the State shall conserve and protect Hawaii's natural beauty and all natural resources. This Constitutional Article gives the environment "Rights" and insures the preservation of the entire environment, the environment's life forms, the Hawaiian cultural and spiritual heritage, and the cultural and spiritual heritage in relation to these Public Trust Resources.

TALKING POINT - "The Public Trust Doctrine states that all Public Trust Resources must be protected."

Precautionary Principle

According to the American Chemistry Council (ACC), "The Precautionary Principle is intended to apply to situations where there is considerable scientific uncertainty; it is typically invoked when information or data are not available to evaluate potential health effects." The Precautionary Principle first assumes a Worst Case Scenario - that the substance in question is totally toxic and hurtful till proven otherwise.

Whenever a new chemical or GMO is introduced, it must be examined as to the risks and benefits of its intended use before it is released into the public. The benefits must always outweigh the risks before it is allowed distribution. And until this thorough assessment is complete and its findings are absolute, the Precautionary Principle forbids the release of that chemical or GMO to protect the environment or its citizens from harm.

ACC continues, "In order to protect the environment (Public Trust Resources), the precautionary approach shall be widely applied by States according to their capabilities. Where there are threats of serious or irreversible damage, lack of full scientific certainty shall not be used as a reason for postponing cost-effective measures to prevent environmental degradation."

The Citizens of Maui County do not have to prove GMO's or GE Growing and Testing is unsafe, Bio-tech companies have to prove it's safe. And until they do, we exercise the Precautionary Principle. What benefits does Maui County derive from GMO's and GE Growing and Testing Practices?

- Food?----- No. We don't get any food from it.
- Money?----- No. The money goes to the companies. They make $243 Billion Dollars a year off our land.
- Taxes?----- Nope again... they get enormous tax breaks.
- Jobs? ----- Sorry. They employ less than 1400 people throughout the state. That's 1/1000 of the population.

- Clean soil?----- The soil is poisoned and sterilized to grow GE Crops
- Benefits?----- None... We get the poisons, they get the profits.

Soil Sterilization

GE growing and testing practices require that the soils and surrounding areas MUST be sterile. Sterile means VOID of any life forms, bacteria or other living microorganisms; totally clean. Biotech companies are sterilizing our soils. Every Microbe in our soil is being poisoned and killed. Hawaii has some of the most unique and rare microbes in the world. The Microbes are what make our environment what it is. Once they're gone they're gone. They cannot be retrieved or replaced leaving us with dead Public Trust Resources. Once again, until soil sterilization is proven safe, we must exercise the Precautionary Principle to protect our Public Trust Resources, our cultural heritage and all the Citizens and visitors of Maui County.

TALKING POINT - "We must exercise the Precautionary Principle to stop Soil Sterilization from hurting our Public Trust Resources"

Unregulated Poisonous Chemical Cocktails

Whenever two different chemicals are mixed, a Brand NEW chemical is created. Even though an individual chemical may have been tested and "deemed" safe on its own, when it is mixed with another chemical, this NEW chemical must now be tested, approved and regulated. With dozens of Chemicals in use in GE growing and testing operations in Maui County (most of which remain unknown because currently they do have to disclose this information) there is the possibility of tens of thousands of combinations of NEW untested, unapproved chemicals on our land, in our air and in our water, none of which are known to the public because they have ever been reported, approved, or even acknowledged.

Government determinations on the safety of chemical products are based on an evaluation of the "weight of evidence" — consideration of all the available information on the particular product and weighing its potential significance of human exposures to the chemical. Typically this involves using information from tests on laboratory animals, evaluating whether the results are relevant to humans, and using risk actors, typically 100- or 1000-fold, to ensure an acceptable level of protection. The greater the risk about the potential health effects of a particular chemical, the greater the likelihood it will not be allowed.

Maui County Residents, the environment and all the Public Trust Resources are currently exposed to multiples of thousands of chemicals that are not reported, known, approved or tested and pose a significant threat of serious or irreversible damage to all life in Maui County.

TALKING POINT - "Until all chemical cocktail combinations used on GE crops are tested, a moratorium must be enacted."

Horizontal Gene Transfer - HGT

There are two ways Genes (genetic traits, RNA, DNA) transfer through life in nature:

1. Vertical transfer is the transfer of genes from parent to offspring. It is the transfer of Genes within a species.
2. Horizontal transfer is the transfer of genes from one species to another species. Horizontal Gene Transfer happens regularly through bacteria and viruses and has happened between species throughout the history of our existence. It is key to the evolution of all species. It is how we build resistance to disease and other phenomenon.

When Genetically Engineered Life Forms enter our environment they instantly alter all life in that environment. When a bug eats a GMO, that bug is forever altered and changed on a molecular DNA level. If a bird eats the bug, and then a cat eats the bird, etc... all the life forms down the line are forever, instantly and irreversibly changed.

In Nature, Horizontal Gene Transfer is a slow and incremental process that gently nudges a life form to change, grow and adapt and can take hundreds, thousands if not millions of years to occur. As biological life transforms and incrementally changes and emerges, the ones that can survive the transformation continue the process of evolution, and the ones that can't eventually die off.

Not in or from Nature, Genetically Engineered Organisms are new life forms created in a laboratory. They have never existed on earth until they are produced in the laboratory. Out of nowhere, suddenly one day, through very crude and unpredictable procedures, scientist create foreign life forms that have no place in the natural evolution of life on earth. What's worse is that scientist have absolutely no idea what will happen once they are released.

Genetically Engineered Organisms are irreversibly changing and altering our entire environment and all the Public Trust Resources and must be stopped immediately if we are to protect those resources, and the cultural heritage associated with those resources.

EIN 46-4888079

TALKING POINT – “Through Horizontal Gene Transfer, GMO’s are irreversibly altering our Public Trust Resources right now, and every day.”

The Five Talking Points Summary

These first five talking points are the foundation of our platform. It is critical to understand these concepts and convey them to everyone either through conversation, art, music, media or writings.

Practice makes perfect, so do the best you can and let us know if you find clever ways to explain any of these concepts. Breaking them down to easier and easier into more relatable concepts will only help everyone within our County understand them.

- 1) The Public Trust Doctrine states that all Public Trust Resources must be protected.
- 2) Until GMO’s are proven safe, the Precautionary Principle must be enacted.
- 3) We must exercise the Precautionary Principle to stop Soil Sterilization from hurting our Public Trust Resources
- 4) Until all chemical cocktail combinations used on GE crops are tested, a moratorium must be enacted.
- 5) Through Horizontal Gene Transfer, GMO’s are irreversibly altering our Public Trust Resources right now, and every day.

Dr. Valenzuela asks serious scientific questions about environmental and health risks that Biotech companies fail to address. This very engaging Power Point Presentation will leave no question as to the dangers and risks of GMO crops in Maui County.

Hector Valenzuela, PhD has been an advocate of promoting ecologically-based, sustainable and organic production technologies in Hawaii since 1991. He has been critical of the large crop biotechnology program at the UH-Manoa College which exists at the expense of sustainable agricultural research programs.

Greetings,

Subject: Regarding Advocating Under "Private Citizen Status"

All our volunteers and contractors should always make this "private citizen" statement in such circumstances especially when they are advocating positions that are aligned with SHAKA interests, unless they have been directed otherwise. They should also know the reason why they need to make the statement (regarding the wearing of their "private citizen" hat whenever they are not expressly directed to act on behalf of SHAKA) is because SHAKA needs to limit its exposure for several reasons including: 1. liability; 2. not having incorrect or distasteful statements attributed to SHAKA; and 3) our limitations as far as e.g. advocating political campaigns.

Therefore, there is no reason to bring SHAKA's name into any endeavor, expressly or by implication, unless we have made a deliberate decision to do so. The volunteers/contractors who know that their statements/activities have the propensity to be attributed to SHAKA without the "statement of clarification regarding private citizen hat" need to be proactive to make said statement.

It is a common and legally allowed practice for persons to have multiple roles in life and so long as such persons make the statement that the private person hat is being worn at the time of a particular activity, that activity cannot be attributed to the "other role" (e.g. SHAKA volunteer/contractor).

SHAKA has no restriction on volunteers/contractors doing what they please as private citizens.

Thanks

Kevin

Dear Jeffrey:

It was truly a pleasure to meet you today. Thank you for all that you do, have done and will do to assist this world in being a better place.

As per your request, I have stripped the larger vision budget to a bare minimum 2 month operations budget.

This new budget required removing one full time person from the payroll and reducing the salary of the remaining full time person to $2000 per month. It also required pay reductions for the part time help as well.

The remaining expenses are hard costs to continue our campaign and maintain not only a presence in the public eye, but also a proactive empowering experience for the community.

PHASE 1 FUNDING 2 MONTH MINIMUM BUDGET

Estimated Phase 1 Funding 2 Month Minimum Budget: $21,100.00

Staff	1 FT staff / 2 mo @ $2000 per mo	4,000.00
	2 PT staff / 2 mo @ $1000/ mo each	4,000.00
12 public education forums	10 @ $550 per	5,500.00
Print ads for hearings	8 @ $700 per / 4 per week	5,600.00
Brochures	20,000	2,000.00

Total = $21,100.00

We will continue to raise private funds and begin building our Indiegogo campaign. Your contribution will guarantee our continued operations so as to remain solvent financially as well as active in the community.

Thank you for your consideration. We hope to make you proud of being one of our supporters.

Did you know...?

According to the American Chemistry Council (ACC), "The Precautionary Principle is intended to apply to situations where there is considerable scientific uncertainty; it is typically invoked when information or data are not available to evaluate potential health effects." The Precautionary Principle first assumes a Worst Case Scenario – that the substance in question is unsafe, toxic and harmful till proven otherwise.

Therefore, the citizens of Maui County do not have to prove GMO's or GE operations are unsafe, biotech companies have to prove they're safe. And until they do, we exercise the Precautionary Principle and suspend all operations. While operations are suspended, a Benefits vs. Risks assessment is done.

What benefits does Maui County get from GMOs and GE Growing and Testing Practices?

- Food? They grow export seed crops & test crops.
- Money? Biotech makes 1/4 of a Billion Dollars a year off the islands ($243,000,000), and we see but a fraction of that here.
- Taxes? Biotech gets large tax breaks.
- Clean water? The chemicals and GMO spread into the land, the ground waters, the people and the ocean.
- Clean air? Chemical laden fugitive dust and pesticide drift poison the air.
- Clean soil? The soil is poisoned and sterilized to grow GE test crops and seed crops.

Benefits? NONE -- We get the poisons, they get the profits.

Risks? TOTAL -- GE operations pose serious threats of severe or irreversible damage to all living things in Maui County.

SUSTAINABLE HAWAIIAN AGRICULTURE

FOR THE KEIKI AND THE ĀINA

The SHAKA Movement is an advocacy, communications and educational outreach program and hub, where people and organizations come together to work in unison to create a positive change for the environment and for the people of the Hawaiian Islands.

Did you know there is something dangerous happening in Maui County?

Were you aware that millions upon millions of people around the world are very concerned about what is happening here on Molokai and Maui?

Did you know that several years ago a new way of "farming" was created and we the public were told it was safer and better, only to find out later that it is very dangerous to our environment and the public's health?

Did you know that this new way of "farming" that is happening on Molokai and Maui is not allowed in over 30 countries including most of Europe?

And did you know that the people working in these GMO fields, who just want to feed their families and be able to pay their bills are being subjected to horrible poisons that could be affecting their lives and health in very serious ways?

And did you know that "We the People," the citizens of Maui County, are the only ones who can do something to change this situation?
